WELCOME TO THE 2026 WHATCOM ARTIST STUDIO TOUR COME SEE WHERE CREATIVITY BEGINS!

The Whatcom Artist Studio Tour is a FREE juried event offering you the opportunity to meet the region's finest artists in their own creative spaces. This year, we have a whopping 62 artists in 40 studios, working across a wide variety of media, showing throughout Bellingham and Whatcom County. There's something for everyone.

These diverse artists open their studios to the public for two special weekends at the beginning of October. Meet the artists and get a glimpse into their creative process. Use this helpful guide to plan a route and visit the studios that most intrigue you. It's an ideal time to purchase fine art and craft from its source, whether as a gift or for yourself.

The Tour would not be possible without the support of our local community. We would like to thank our advertisers and sponsors for their belief that art is important to keeping Whatcom County vibrant. We encourage everyone to use the services of these locally-owned businesses.

To advertise in next year's brochure, visit the Sponsor's page at www.studiotour.net/sponsors.

Our funding comes from community business sponsorships and the advertisers you see in our guide and promotional materials. All are dedicated to promoting and supporting the arts. Your continued patronage with them helps us build a strong arts community.

For Artists Interested in Participating in the 2027 Whatcom Artist Studio Tour, applications will be live on our website (www.studiotour.net) beginning January, 2027. Applications are due by April 15, 2027.

Help us even more by participating in our Tour Survey and be entered to win a prize. See page 9 to find out how.

Studios are open to the public from 10am to 5pm * October 3, 4 and 10, 11

Online visit us at www.StudioTour.net, on Facebook at facebook.com/WhatcomArtistStudioTour OR on Instagram at www.instagram.com/whatcomartiststudiotour

Keep This Guidebook!

You will find maps and a directory to the artists in this guide. Hold on to it to contact participating artists throughout the year. During the two weekends of the tour, there is no need to phone ahead – just go and enjoy! Yellow and black signs will guide you to their doors. We have indicated which studios offer demonstrations. Please note that some demos occur at certain times so that you don't miss out!

Tips for Finding Artists * Maps

At the top left of each artist listing, you'll find a studio number. These numbers correspond to the location numbers on the map at the back of this guidebook (pages 18, 19, & 20). Artists with the same number are exhibiting at the same studio indicated by SHARED STUDIO. Studios with demonstrations and wheelchair access are indicated with these icons: DEMO and

HANDMADE BOOKS

My hand-bound, leather blank journals are sewn through the spine, allowing books to lay flat, and have unique spine designs. I use Arches Textwove paper, decorative papers, and silk thread for sewing and twining.

WOOD WORKING

When my husband died, I found myself with a wood shop full of exotic wood scraps. I got a laser etcher and began to reconstruct my world. As in real life, I started in the center with nature and built out with pieces of beauty using a block of maple and my drawings.

INSTALLATION

I make portraits using the projection of the shadows of kinetic sculptures. My goal is to reveal a range of subtle psychological states of the subjects by continually changing the position of the sculptures in relation to the light source.

PAINTING

I try to include an animal in every painting. Local wildlife is best but any animal that will work with the subject matter is considered. I really enjoy including animals that aren't very popular. I also do commissioned pet portraits.

PAINTING

My work is colorful and bold with a forced perspective. I enjoy painting Fairhaven's historic buildings and have a deep love of animals. I have travelled the world and this is reflected in my art.

MIXED MEDIA

I create fun acrylic paintings working with many layers, depth, patterns and eventually an abstracted image. I do not know where it is going while I am painting. After a certain point, an image emerges to me and then I focus on bringing that image out.

PAINTING

Blending oil paint and mixed media, Ceci captures the dialogue between her Guatemalan heritage and her life in the Pacific Northwest. Her work is inspired by nature's wild, sustaining forces and guided by a belief that feelings carry ancestral knowledge.

WHATCOM ARTIST STUDIO TOUR

OPENING THE STUDIOS OF WHATCOM COUNTY ARTISTS
SINCE 1994

What Began as an Experiment Grew into a Legacy

Founded in 1994, The Whatcom Artist Studio Tour brings the public into artists' working studios for a free, self-guided tour and sale during the first two weekends in October. The Studio Tour offers visitors insight into the creative process, work-life and work-environment of area artists and provides an opportunity for visitors to purchase original works directly from their makers.

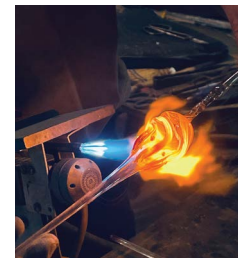

Beginning with ten artists, the Tour has grown to be a well-orchestrated event featuring local artists working in more than a dozen different media, scattered throughout Bellingham and Whatcom County.

It's an opportunity to buy work from local artists, to find new sources of inspiration, to share and to learn. Find out more at www.studiotour.net.

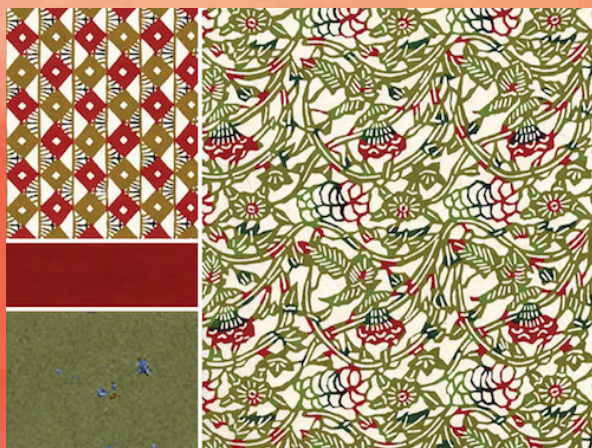

This pioneering event has grown into one of the largest and longest-running studio tours in the Pacific Northwest during the first two weekends in October.

"It's been amazing to watch the tour grow into something that gets the whole community involved in celebrating the lives of working artists."

Karen Theusen
participating artist and former Board president
